Judge Biglerville Homes Monday

Beginning promptly at 8 o'clock Monday evening Christmas decorations of individual homes in Biglerville will be judged to determine this year's winner of the town's annual decorating contest. Those who are conducting this drive hope there will be some decorations on every home, regardless of the residents' interest in competing for prizes.

Some homes have been decorated since before Biglerville's recent parade and Christmas lighting ceremony. However, there is sufficient time remaining for all persons to enter into this traditional activity.

In selecting the winners of seven cash prizes, judges consider homes on the basis of originality, general appearance, theme, unity, effectiveness and portrayal of the Christmas spirit.

Prizes will be awarded to the winning decorators as follows: First prize, $20; second prize, $15; third, $10; fourth, $5; fifth, $3; sixth, $2; and seventh prize, $1.

It is requested that all contest winners keep their homes decorated until New Year's Day and all residents of Biglerville are urged to do the same.

STATE AID FOR SEWAGE PLANTS MAY DELAY WORK

A pledge by Governor-elect John S. Fine to look into the possibility of providing state aid to communities building sewage treatment plants, developed unexpected repercussions today, the Associated Press said in a dispatch from Harrisburg.

Local authorities said the governor-elect's statement might delay the building of three disposal plants in Adams county, the addition to the present sewage treatment plant in Gettysburg, and proposed sewage works at New Oxford and Fairfield.

A borough authority spokesman who did not want to be quoted said that he did not know whether Fine's statement would have any effect in building the Gettysburg addition would be discussed at the next meeting of the local authority.

Local Authority Ready
The latter, of which Ray M. Hoffman is president, will have a meeting either late this month or early in January. It is preparing to ask for bids, both on the bond issue and on the construction of the sewage plant addition after the first of the year, it was said.

Who Said U.S. And Yanks Are Not Finest In World?

Baltimore, Dec. 14 (AP)—With presents piled halfway up the walls today, the little three-room apartment looked like a way station for Santa Claus on his Christmas eve trip.

Instead, it was the way in which hundreds of Baltimoreans demonstrated good will toward a less fortunate neighbor.

Just two days ago, the apartment home for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patrick O'Hara and their two young children—had been practically bare. There was a bed, but it had no mattress. There were no chairs and only one table. The only heat came from the gas range in the kitchen. There was no fuel for a tiny parlor stove.

O'Hara, a 25-year-old veteran infantryman of the Korean War with four years of service during World War Two didn't have a regular job. He had been given an army medical discharge in October because of ulcers. He had been unable to find a full-time job he could manage. Normally a 145-pounder, he was down to 118 pounds.

Mrs. O'Hara also was ill with a kidney ailment. She weighed only 98 pounds. Somehow, they managed to keep their children—Kathleen

Use New Drug On Patient Here

Medicine's new ACTH drugs are now being given to little Kathryn Swisher, aged 10, Fairfield R. 1, who is a patient at the Warner hospital with a rheumatic heart.

The Women of the Moose are providing the funds for the medicines which are still in an experimental stage. ## Russia Hurling Its Air Might Against Yanks; 100,000 Red Chinese Massing At Hungnam

Tokyo, Dec. 14 (AP)—Allied forces pulled deeper into their northeast Korea beachhead today before the menace of an estimated 100,000 Chinese Reds massed on an arc around them.

Across the peninsula in the northwest near Manchuria the biggest jet-against-jet air battles ever fought were waged during the day. The jet dogfights rendered no clear-cut decisions.

(In Washington, an Air Force spokesman said the growing Red jet fighter activities indicated the Communist Air Force is starting to wage an all-out air war in Korea.

"The pattern now unfolded may reveal a steady increasing tempo of air activity as additional aircraft become available from Communist China or the Soviet Union," the spokesman added.)

On the northeast beachhead the U.S. Third Division abandoned the town of Oro, six miles north of Hamhung, and withdrew into the slender perimeter strip extending another six miles to the east coast port of Hungnam.

It is the United Nations' last foothold in the northeast.

Puerto Rican troops attached to the Third Division dynamited three spans of a 500-foot concrete bridge over the Songchon river after Oro was abandoned. A railroad bridge and two other spans on the outer defense perimeter also were blasted.

Scout Beachhead
These were the first reported large demolitions on the outskirts of the beachhead. Oro was in flames from pre-dawn fighting. This was believed to be the scene of a light Chinese probing attack reported earlier but not pinpointed. Enemy reconnaissance planes scouted the beachhead Wednesday night.

Farmers Urged To Buy War Bonds

GIVE SOFTER
WALL EFFECTS

Although high gloss oil paints are still used extensively for walls of kitchens, bathrooms, and laundries, flat paints are growing in popularity for other rooms. Particularly suitable for wall decoration because of their light-reflecting value, these coatings also make softer effects possible. For woodwork, semi-gloss finish which combines advantages of both types is usually favored.

The present fast rate of construction of small homes is accentuating the need for electric ventilation, the Plumbing and Heating Industries bureau points out. Because the compact design of these new homes places the kitchen near to every other room in the house, grease and fumes quickly spread throughout the home whenever meals are prepared.

To eliminate heat, odors and grime, manufacturers are now making a ventilating fan which replaces the air in the kitchen before it can spread to other parts of the house.

Despite the excellence of modern cooking appliances, certified laboratory tests show that more than 400 pounds of grease and grime are deposited in the average home each year by fumes given off in cooking. To avoid these deposits and "left-over" odors from cooking, these small fans are suitable for installation in a steel sash, or other small pane window, with the exhaust unit replacing one pane of glass. The steel panels extend to fit any ordinary window and may be quickly secured by four screws.

In a recent survey by the American Builder, it was noted that over 84 per cent of home builders in urban areas are planning to put ventilating and exhaust fans in their homes. The utility of ventilating fans does not stop in the kitchen, but extends to the laundry, recreation room and bathroom, with new easily installed models for each purpose.

This low cost method of ventilation is one of the latest adaptations of the cross-circulation principle which assures the home owner of fresh, constantly moving air in every part of the home.

Rice Finds Haven At Union League

Frank Brookhouser, in his column in the Philadelphia Inquirer, Wednesday, wrote the following:

Two men entered the door of the Union League the other day to attend a meeting of the Gettysburg college board of trustees.

"Good morning, Mr. Patrick," said the doorman to the first man. "Good morning, Mr. Rice," to the second. League member William H. Patrick, Jr., stared in astonishment at John S. Rice, DEMOCRATIC nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania in 1946.

"How come you're known here?" asked Patrick.

"More than known, Pat," replied Rice. "I have a reservation to spend the night here. And I believe some of these employees voted for me when I ran against Jim Duff."

Not that, Mr. Rice. Not . . . treason!

MAY CULTIVATE
WEEDS SOME DAY

Some day you may be proud of the weeds growing in your garden or on the farm. Dr. Firman E. Bear, head of the soils department at Rutgers university, is not sure that all weeds are the villains that they have been made out to be. This needs to be looked into further, thinks Dr. Bear, but "there is reason to believe that many weeds make highly important contributions in mobilizing minor elements in the soil."

For example, ragweed and lamb's quarter, two common weeds, are excellent accumulators of zinc. Dr. Bear holds that they might be deliberately grown for the purpose of restoring that element to a zinc-deficient soil. And if you're allergic to ragweed and have started to sneeze at the very thought, you can be assured that Dr. Bear is far from ready to recommend wholesale sowing of ragweed seeds.

Dr. Bear mentioned weeds in pleading the cause of more organic material in the soil at the annual conference of fertilizer manufacturers and dealers at the College of Agriculture recently. There is a need, he said, not only for getting more organic matter into the soil, but a variety of kinds of organic material. Certain weeds may provide this variety.

Cultivation of weeds may belong to the future. Right now the most important thing to be done toward maintaining organic matter and good soil structure is to plant a mixed grass and legume crop once every third or fourth year, Dr. Bear emphasizes. Then fertilize it liberally and keep it on the land at least one full year, he suggests.

Dr. Bear spoke also on the practicalities of converting waste from cities into compost to be retained to the land.

$1,000 Damage In Crash; Woman Hurt

A woman was injured and damage totaling an estimated $1,000 resulted this morning about 6:30 o'clock when a car and a tank truck loaded with fuel oil collided and plunged into a five-foot ditch along a small stream. The accident occurred two miles north of Hanover on the road leading to Cross Keys.

William H. Fissel, Jr., Hanover R. 3, was traveling north when he attempted a left turn into the driveway of his father-in-law, Edward Rabenstein, as the big trailer truck was starting to pass him. The truck was being driven north by Charles Leslie Heaton, Linthicum, Md. After the collision, both vehicles went over an embankment and into the small creek.

Mrs. Dolores Fissel, wife of the operator of the car, was treated at the scene by a physician for bruises of the right knee and a neck injury. State police from Gettysburg are continuing their investigation.

A Sanitary Water Board spokesman said the Fine statement is now creating a wait-and-see attitude among communities at a time when the board is exerting pressure to proceed with local stream clearance programs.

To Ask Extension

Mayor Claude E. Robins of Harrisburg confirmed the attitude with an announcement that the capital city would ask the board for an extension of time beyond the June 1, 1952, deadline for completion of sewage treatment works.

"Governor Fine has said what we communities along the Susquehanna river have claimed right along—that the state should help pay for these plants," said Robins.

GHS WILL MEET RED LION HIGH HERE ON FRIDAY

Gettysburg high will go after its first basketball win of the season Friday evening when Red Lion high will be met in a twin bill on the local floor. The Jayvee teams will meet at 8:45 o'clock.

The Warriors dropped their opening game to the powerful unbeaten York quint here Monday and are bent on recording their initial victory at the expense of the Lions.

Foremost in the lineup for Red Lion will be Dick Stine, 6-2 pivot man, who collected 21 points against York last week.

In addition to Stine Coach Nitchkey has two other lettermen on his squad, Donald McGinnis and Harold Henshaw. Rounding out the Red Lion varsity squad are Buck Grove, Dick Hoffman, Jay Olewiler, Sheldon Stine, Max Kaufman, Ned Sittler, Dale Chronister and Carl Paley. It is highly probable that Coach George Forney will again use his entire squad Friday night in his program to determine his best combination before the opening of the South Penn league season in January.

Posts Wide Open

All positions are wide open on the squad and it is doubtful if a regular lineup will be chosen until the South Penn loop swings into action. The defense has picked up a little during the week but the entire squad still has a long way to go if it hopes to be a factor in the conference race.

Against York the Warriors showed a great need for more work and with each game the team should improve sufficiently to warrant hopes for a successful season. The entire squad is lacking in experience but has fine potentialities.

Coach Forney will chose his starting lineup from Harrier, Fiebel, Skinner, Saunders, Crist, McCormick, Williams, Swope, Bream, Veldre and Washington.

HANNAH PENN 5 FACES JR. HIGH HERE TONIGHT

This evening the Gettysburg Junior high basketball team will open its season by meeting Hannah Penn Junior high of York on the high school floor. The Jayvee teams will meet at 6:45 o'clock.

Coach Rogers Herr has six members of last year's Jayvee players around whom he is moulding his team. They include Bob Rohrbaugh, Jay Schmitt, Paul Ketterman, Peter Baughman, Ronald Williams and George Penn.

Also remaining from last year are Ray Creager, Fred Baker and Ken Smith. The newcomers to the squad include Jack Knox, Roger Crouse, Stanton Musser and Ed Warren. Hannah Penn is coached by Charley Falkner, former Gettysburg college athlete.

The local Jayvee squad is composed of a squad of 13 players.

Mt. St. Mary's Will Abandon Football

Emmitsburg, Md., Dec. 14 (AP)—Mount St. Mary's college announced Wednesday it is abandoning intercollegiate football.

A spokesman said Mgr. John L. Sheridan, president, and the college council had decided to discontinue the sport because of the uncertainty of the student enrollment and manpower situation next year. The Mount's football hopes soared in 1948 with the arrival of John Law, captain of the great 1929 Notre Dame eleven, as director of athletics and head coach of football and baseball.

But his undermanned squad won only two of 10 games that season, and three of 12 last year and one out of seven the past season.

Wednesday's announcement said Law will remain with the college until next June. His plans beyond that were not disclosed.

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—It doesn't make sense. . . . Football coaches everywhere are quitting or being fired because of ulcers—in their stomachs or won-and-lost records—and Frank Leahy gets a pay raise after his worst season. . . . And he's a guy who probably needs a couple of good ends more than the dough. . . . In the course of their "slap happy" meeting, the major league baseball guys didn't do much about that radio-television problem that was supposed to be such a hot potato. It won't help the minors much merely to suggest that big league clubs shouldn't increase their too-big networks. . . . Now that Kansas U. has shown what can be accomplished by waiving personal fouls in basketball, how about a similar baseball rule to let a batter waive an intentional pass? He could make the pitcher keep throwing until he had a chance to connect.

Psychology Student
Dutch Meyer, the Texas Christian U. coach, is getting a few laughs on the banquet circuit telling this one. . . . When Sammy Baugh was playing for TCU, colorful Ernie Quigley referred an important game. . . . Sam called for a plunge from the one-yard line and the TCU boys all thought they had scored, but Quig said no. . . . Baugh quickly silenced complaints by saying: "Boys, Mr. Quigley is the best referee in the game. If he said we didn't get over, we didn't get over."

Then Sammy called for another plunge, the fullback was stopped at about the same spot and without hesitating, Quigley signalled a touchdown.

GROUP NAMED TO SEEK NEW COMMISSIONER

St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Major league club owners appointed a four-man committee today to search for a new commissioner to replace A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who again vowed that he would not resign.

The committee, composed of two men from the National and two from the American league, was instructed to begin screening candidates immediately and endeavor to bring back a report to the owners at their meeting next February.

The committee also has been empowered to offer a $75,000 a year salary to Chandler's successor. That amounts to a $10,000 increase over the salary paid to the present commissioner.

A club president who asked his name not be used, said the majority of the club owners voiced their preference for a man having no connection with baseball. That man also must be a "universally respected person possessing a judicial mind," he added.

This would tend to eliminate such heretofore outstanding candidates as Ford Frick, president of the National league; George Trautman, head of the Minors, and Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds.

Probable Committee

Although neither league has made public its committee, it is believed that Del Webb, vice president of the New York Yankees, and Billy Evans, general manager of the Detroit Tigers, are the American league pair while Lou Perini, Boston Braves president, and Giles represent the National.

"The owners do not want a baseball man for commissioner," the informant said, "they fear that a man inside the baseball family might be more friendly to some than others and therefore might tend to be prejudiced. They want a man with a judicial mind who is not directly connected with politics."

In the meantime, Chandler steadfastly sticks to his vow to keep his job "until the final second of my tenure."

It was learned Chandler was offered a cash payment of $100,000 at Tuesday's joint session if he would resign. That represents $15,000 more than the amount he would make at his $85,000 a year salary if he stayed on the remaining 16½ months. His contract expires May 1, 1952.

Chandler refused. He insisted he had done a creditable job for baseball and its owners and deserved a new term. The owners, who Monday night voted not to renew his contract, disagreed.

Mountaineers And Bullets In Tilt Here This Evening

A spirited basketball battle is expected to take place in the college gymnasium this evening when the Bullets clash with Mt. St. Mary's college at 8 o'clock.

Pete Caruso, new Mountaineer coach, has come up with a promising team which has won four of six engagements and is improving with each outing.

Les Cosgrove, an excellent man beneath the hoops, is currently pacing the scoring and is ably assisted by Co-Captain Gene Janis. Co-Captain Jim Montgomery, Gilday and Kachnoski are expected to round out the starting combination tonight.

Coach "Hen" Bream is expected to stick to the lineup which turned in such a fine performance against Johns Hopkins. It will include Bob O'Brien, Hank Belber, Tom Ketterman, Warren Watson and Bruce Mahon.

BULLETS MEET PITT IN FIRST HOME MAT TILT

What may prove to be the best home match of the season is scheduled for the Gettysburg college wrestling squad Friday evening at 8 o'clock when the University of Pittsburgh will be met here.

Announcement was made today that the finals of the college intramural wrestling tournament will be staged prior to the varsity match beginning at 7 o'clock.

The Panthers, who will be opening their campaign with this match, has a veteran team and is reported to be much stronger than last season.

Coach Clyde Cole has announced there will be several changes in the Bullet entrants from the opening match with Cornell last week, lost by a 24-6 score.

Johnny Loose and Jimmy Woods will wrestle again in the 123 and 130-pound classes, respectively. Either Jack Leidy or Sam Andrews will grapple as 137-pounders. Fred Hoeninger will step down from 157 to the 147-pound affair while "By" Wagner will engage in the 157-pound event.

Jim Spangler and Al Hershberger will take care of the 167 and 177 bouts but it is as yet undetermined in which each will participate. John Hershberger is again listed for the heavyweight clash.

TRUCK WEIGHT

and expressed continued opposition to any increase in existing weight limits for trucks.

One of the resolutions noted: "Whereas the huge freight trucks traveling the highways of Pennsylvania continue to cause excessive damage to our roads and streets; therefore be it resolved that we continue our opposition to any increase in existing weight limits of trucks and demand a decrease in the present excessive weights when and where such trucks are to be used on township roads, and be it further resolved that we request from both state and local authorities a more strict enforcement of existing weight limits."

Another resolution asked the state to pass legislation that will include all township officers and employees under social security. The action was taken because of fears that tax collectors and similar officers who work for fees will not be included, the supervisors explained.

Favor Assessment Board

Other resolutions asked state legislation preventing the annexation of parts of townships to boroughs or cities without a majority vote of the entire township; asked that city and borough laws be amended to permit residents of parts of cities to join townships if they so desire; proclaimed "our utter opposition to any legislation that would tend to deprive our township officials of any of their rights, duties or prerogatives that they now possess. We declare that supervisors, auditors, assessors, tax collectors, justices of the peace and constables should be elected by the people, from among the people for the service of the people of the townships"; endorsed legislation providing all motor vehicle code violation fines be paid into the treasury of the political subdivision in which the violation occurs; and urged the State Highway Planning commission to consider the fact that the rural road system of Pennsylvania "comprising 50 per cent of the entire mileage has been woefully neglected" and requested that a "fair allocation of motor funds" be given to the township road systems.

The assessors were termed "the weakest spot" in local self-government, by H. A. "Cappy" Thomson, Upper Darby, state secretary of the supervisors association. Noting that movements are underway to do away with assessors in the townships, Thomson noted "a few years ago it would have been impossible to do away with the assessors because there was no machinery to replace them. Today we have that machinery. The State Tax Equalization board is making assessments right now for every township and county in the state. It would be a simple legislative move for the state

PIAA DISTRICT CHAMPS GET OFF TO GOOD STARTS

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—District powerhouses are beginning to assert themselves in the opening days of the 1950-51 schoolboy basketball campaign in Pennsylvania.

The state's dozen or so major conference races get underway early next month but a host of quintets already hold impressive records. Most of them are defending district champions.

Homestead's 1950 PIAA class A champions, with only one returning veteran, continue their winning ways. They won number four Tuesday night from Pittsburgh South Hills, 52-42. Tomorrow night Chick Davies' charges are favored to win from Turtle Creek.

Swoyersville, the defending eastern class A champion, opened its card Monday night with a 56-49 triumph over Scranton Tech. It was the Scranton school's first loss in five times out this season. The Sailors tangle with St. John's of Pittston tomorrow night.

Bethlehem and Pottstown are two of the big surprises of the infant campaign. Bethlehem stopped Reading's Central Penn conference powers Tuesday night, 61-36, for its second straight victory. The Red Hurricanes go after Slatington tomorrow night.

Pottstown Strong

Pottstown has won four games including a 55-42 decision over Kutztown, defending PIAA class B titlist. The Trojans battled to the end Tuesday night to upset Norristown, 59-57, in an overtime tilt. Norristown previously had defeated Haverford, last season's district one winner and expected to be just as strong this year.

Lancaster, winner over Hanover of the South Penn loop 54-40, in its opener Tuesday night, entertains Pottstown tomorrow night in what promises to be the top eastern battle.

The west also has a top clash coming up tomorrow night. Altoona, defending district six champion, travels to meet a highly-regarded Farrell team. Altoona faced Mt. Union, 50-31, in its warm-up Tuesday night. Farrell, last year's runner-up, to Homestead in the WPIAL won its third from Youngstown East, 60-25.

Johnstown showed it will challenge Altoona's district six title by dropping Greensburg, 45-33. The Trojans should add another tomorrow night at the expense of Franklin Boro. Windber, another hot district six club, beat Franklin 58-57 Tuesday. Windber goes to Bedford tomorrow.

Hazleton, defending East Penn conference winner, took Wilkes-Barre Coughlin Tuesday night, 66-52. Allentown, back in the East Penn again, got by Palmerton, 76-72.

to make the tax equalization board the assessing body for the state."

To correct the inequalities that occur from the present assessment system, Thomson proposed that the assessing in each township be done by a board made up of the present assessor, a representative of the school-board and a representative of the board of supervisors. "Three heads are better than one—and it would take the pressure off the assessor," he noted.

May Get PSI School

He further proposed that a similar board be set up at a county level made up of a representative of the assessors in the county, a representative of the school boards and a representative of the supervisors to review the assessments and see that they are equal throughout the county.

The supervisors convention voted in favor of the idea and urged Thomson to promote the idea in the state legislature during the coming year.

Another vote of the supervisors indicated that there will probably be a school conducted here during the coming year by the Public Service Institute. Thirty of those present raised their hands when Thomson asked how many would attend a school of instruction in the duties of township officials conducted by the Public Service Institute.

Thomson also urged the supervisors to "get your townships in shape in case of need for civil defense. If a bomb drops on Baltimore, or Washington, or Philadelphia, you are going to get refugees and extraordinary traffic on your roads. Be prepared to shore up your bridges and for extraordinary demands on your roads, for the township roads will become the means for civilian refugees to get away from target areas. The main roads will be kept free of refugees to permit easier troop movements. You can make expenditures now for civilian defense needs."

BIG WAR PLANTS ESSENTIAL NOW SAYS MARSHALL

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—A rapid build-up of the nation's war plants is essential to meet the serious threat of a global conflict, Secretary of Defense Marshall has told Congress.

Whether an all-out shooting war might erupt within the next few months was described by Marshall as "very hard to answer."

He said this country is doing all it can to avoid full-scale hostilities, but he added, "we realize that an all-out war can be initiated by a single word from the other side."

While this uncertainty exists, he said, "emphasis on production is the way to begin" to strengthen the nation's defenses. He said the important thing is "to lay down the assembly lines, the tooling, the jigs and so forth, so that we can quickly build up what may be necessary."

Hold Secret Hearings

Marshall expressed these views in secret hearings before the House Military Appropriations subcommittee on an emergency $16,844,000,000 request for more military funds. The subcommittee made the testimony of Marshall and other military officials public today.

The huge money bill—assured of congressional approval this year—boasts to $41,461,000,000 the amount sought to fight the Korean War and to expand and maintain the military forces through next June 30.

It is the second such emergency request since the start of the Korean War. The first, approved last fall, was for $10,500,000,000. One of Marshall's top aides, undersecretary Robert Lovett, called the new money, "only an initial step in a planned four-year effort" to restore U. S. military might.

The present bill provides what Marshall terms "partial mobilization" and what Chairman Mahon (D-Tex.) of the subcommittee interpreted to a reporter as meaning "one-third to one-half of full mobilization."

Marshall told the subcommittee that before next June he thought the Defense department would ask for more funds. That would increase still further defense spending this year.

UNAUTHORIZED RAIL STRIKE IS CRIPPLING U.S.

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP)—A sudden, crippling railroad strike spread from Chicago to Washington today despite a Federal court order to end the walkout.

The yardworkers' work stoppage curtailed passenger service on eight rail lines serving the nation's capital. A similar walkout has tied up considerable freight and hit some passenger traffic in Chicago, rail crossroads of the nation.

There had been a hint from chiefs of the railroad brotherhoods that the strike might spread. The first walkout, in Chicago, took 10,000 men out of the yards yesterday.

A Federal judge last night ordered the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen to end the one-day strike. The government, which seized the nation's carriers last August after a strike threat stemming from a wage-hour dispute, said the stoppage was "seriously interfering with the war effort."

Unauthorized Strike

The walkout, which the union termed unauthorized, virtually halted freight movement. It caused some passenger train cancellations and disrupted other industries. Continuation of the stoppage threatened a major delay in the Christmas mails in Chicago, which is a major transfer point for transcontinental mails.

The steel industry was hit almost immediately. Some blast furnaces were banked. There were shutdowns and curtailment of operations throughout the Chicago industrial area.

At the same time, presidents of four operating rail unions, including the BRT, said in Washington the Chicago strike may spread unless White House and government mediation efforts are stepped up to settle the wage-hour dispute.

They blamed the delay in reaching an agreement on John R. Steelman, President Truman's assistant who had been conducting the negotiations. They said the White House has been told of the "unrest" among rail yard workers.

A railroad spokesman said the strike appeared to be an attempt to force settlement of the dispute before any wage freeze or Presidential declaration of a war emergency. The union seeks at 40 hour work week at 48 hours pay for its yard workers. The dispute has been before Steelman and the National (Railway) Mediation Board for more than four months.

Two vice presidents of the BRT early today were served copies of the temporary restraining order issued at a night court session by Federal Judge William J. Campbell.

The order directing the BRT to end the walkout was issued after two Justice department attorneys and an army representative had flown here from Washington to appear at the hearing.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Moose Lodge Buys Home: The three-story property at 23 York street, was sold on Saturday evening by the Gettysburg National bank to Gettysburg lodge No. 1526, Loyal Order of Moose.

The deal was consummated and the transfer made through C. A. Williams, 42 Hanover street. The Moose lodge organized locally in 1926, has maintained rooms on the third floor of the G. R. Thompson building, on Carlisle street. The building on York street was formerly owned by Emory Forrest.

Joseph U. Appier is dictator of the local Moose lodge and the sale was made to Mr. Appier, Ed. Freed, Lloyd Reed and John Anzengruber, the latter three being trustees of the lodge. H. T. Biddle is the lodge secretary.

County Couple Wed On Friday: A pretty wedding was solemnized Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Heckenluber in Arendtsville, when their daughter, Miss Isabelle Heckenluber, became the bride of Marshall Longanecker, son of Mrs. Hester Longanecker, of Arendtsville.

Miss Marie Rexroth attended the bride as maid of honor and Henry Lower was best man.

The ring ceremony, performed in the living room, was used by the Rev. E. W. Brindle, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Culp, representative to the state association; Lloyd Palmer, representative to the southeastern association; James B. Aumen, chief; Charles J. Myers, William G. Weaver, John E. Storm and C. E. Woodward, assistant chiefs.

The company stood in silence for one minute out of respect to William A. Hennig and David Blocher, both of whom were described as "loyal friends" of the fire company.

Free Wood Is Given By State: A program directed toward helping the unemployment situation and relieving distress in Pennsylvania was advanced Friday by the Pennsylvania department of forests and water, by authorizing forest officers to issue free wood permits on the state forests to any person in need of firewood who cannot afford to buy it.

According to the State Forester Joseph S. Hilck, a state wide survey shows that the demand for fuelwood is greater this year than it has been for many years and that there is ample fuelwood in the state forests to take care of the needy. At least 100,000 cords are available and accessible for immediate use.

Today's Talk

BY GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

H.V.K.

Three of the most famous initials in radio go to that dean of them all—H. V. Kaltenborn. I have just read his "Fifty Fabulous Years," and it is a most absorbing, interesting, and inspiring book.

It is the story of a boy who looked ahead, who wanted to excel, and who wanted his life to mean something. He began as a newspaper man on the Brooklyn Eagle, and many years after most young men have finished their college career he decided that to make his life more efficient and important he should have a college education. So he got a leave of absence from his newspaper and went through Harvard college, where he not only gained fine training but came in contact with some of the great educators of the day, who became his friends.

But Mr. Kaltenborn's earliest taste for newspaper work came when, as a boy, he wrote pieces for his home town paper, the Merrill (Wisconsin) Advocate. He enlisted during the Spanish-American War and sent back reports to that paper. That was the beginning of the "fifty fabulous years" he writes about, which finally took him to every corner of the globe, where he reported what he saw and interviewed every important personage during these eventful years.

It was the Second World War, however, that initiated his greatest fame through his unique presentations over the radio. First and foremost, Mr. Kaltenborn has always been the reporter, accurate and courageous, as well, in his interpretations of the news and events. His story is especially inspiring and instructive, for it takes one over a period of world history in brief review, and confined to a single book of 300 pages.

"If there is one thing more than any other that characterizes the average American," wrote Mr. Kaltenborn, "it is his eagerness to learn almost anything at almost any age." And that typifies the writer of this book. It's a thrilling story that covers an era in world history that challenges the faith of us all in democratic institutions, and their preservation. It is a book well worth reading!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Spark"

Man, I think I ought to tell you, when you've settled down to dine

You must now expect the question: "Are your socks the number nine?"
Give the answer very quickly and then promptly let it go. Don't embarrass them by asking just why they want to know.

If you're asked about pajamas; do you like them red or blue?

You don't help them if you tell that the ones you have will do.

If they wonder for your necktie would you like a clasp of gold

Never say: "I have a dozen!" That is not what they'd be told.

These are days when conversation takes an unexpected turn. When your underwear condition one who loves you wants to learn.

So be nice about it always. Tell them everything you can. They are bothered by this problem: What for Christmas give a man.

TO RE-ARREST DANIEL COHEN

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—A city plumbing inspector who was fined $50 and placed on six months probation after pleading no defense to 101 charges of extortion faced re-arrest today on new charges of extortion and perjury.

Sentence was imposed on 57-year-old Daniel Cohen by Judge Thomas Bluet on Monday. Cohen was accused of shaking down Philadelphia plumbing contractors for $2,300. State Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, in an unprecedented action, yesterday asked Judge Bluet to give Cohen a stiffer sentence. When the judge refused, saying "for the time being, the decision stands as it is," Margiotti ordered Cohen's re-arrest.

Margiotti said Cohen will be arrested in two or three days. He said he had asked his deputies and the state police, meanwhile, to determine Cohen's financial status and his true physical condition.

Judge Bluet said he had been told the defendant suffered from a heart ailment that might prove fatal if he were jailed, and also that he had no money to pay a heavier fine.

The perjury charge against Cohen, Margiotti said, will involve Cohen's testimony before a special grand jury several weeks ago. A member of Margiotti's staff said that if Cohen denied he had taken part in a shake-down and then pleaded no defense to such a charge, he would be liable to prosecution for perjury.

Work On Bridge Halted By Strike

Williamsport, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—A strike by operating engineers halted work today on construction of the new $3,000,000 Market street bridge across the Susquehanna river here.

Harry W. Lavery, Kingston, business agent for the AFL-International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 542, said eight members of the union left their jobs demanding a 15-cent-an-hour wage boost.

The engineers picketed the span and the remaining 65 AFL employees refused to cross lines set up by the strikers.

The wage demands were directed at George Vang, Inc., Pittsburgh bridge contractor. The contractor declined comment.

Work on the bridge started last spring. About half of the steel construction is completed.

SOLONS URGING FOR CONTROLS ON WAGES, PRICES

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Congressional leaders plugging for wage-price controls said they would tell President Truman today that such curbs must be invoked swiftly to safeguard mobilization speed-up plans.

At Mr. Truman's request, leaders arranged to attend a White House conference—the second in as many days — on bolstering the nation against Communist aggression.

The group called to today's session with the President is made up of top Democrats and Republicans on the Senate and House Banking committees and the joint Economic and Atomic Energy committees. Key administration officials also were called in, just as they were yesterday when another group of congressional leaders met with the President.

Favor Military Power
After that meeting the White House said there appeared to be unanimous agreement among the conferees that "our military strength should be built up with the utmost speed."

The Republicans present backed up that statement, but Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said on their behalf some members of the GOP group had doubts about the need for proclaiming a national emergency.

Mr. Truman is considering such a step and may announce his decision in a nation-wide radio broadcast at 10:30 p.m., EST, tomorrow night. The speech also will be carried by some television stations and it will be beamed aboard by the State Department's "Voice of America."

At the first White House session leaders of both parties endorsed plans for a rapid build-up of U.S. military might.

CHINA AIMS AT DOMINANT ROLE IN EAST ASIA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
Sir Benegal Rau, India's United Nations representative, expresses the conviction that the Chinese people "seem to be moving toward a sort of Monroe Doctrine for the Far East."

That's an interesting observation, especially as coming from an Asiatic statesman whose own great country also appears to be reaching for leadership in that part of the world.

Sir Benegal of course had reference to America's Monroe Doctrine. That gets its name from President Monroe, who in 1823 warned European nations to keep hands off the western hemisphere.

Struggle of Ideologies

Sir Benegal made this statement in laying before the U.N. a plan sponsored by Asian and Middle East countries for a cease fire in Korea. He said he was convinced the Peiping government wanted peace but that the people have been made suspicious by past ordeals and see aggression where none exists.

Well, if that is a correct estimate it could go far toward explaining China's military intervention in Korea. I believe, however, we must dig deeper than that for a solution.

The Korean upheaval is, of course, another clash between communism and democracy. As such it is part of the ideological struggle which rapidly is enveloping Asia.

The Soviet Union—part European and largely Asiatic—is the commander-in-chief of the Red forces. Its lieutenant for Eastern Asia is Red China, mighty in territory and resources and boasting close to a fifth of the world's population.

Under Russia's Guns

Under these circumstances it isn't strange to see Communist China apparently aiming at the dominant position in the Far East. And a good deal more than a "Monroe Doctrine" is involved.

China's intervention in Korea, and her operations against Tibet, Nepal and Indo-China make it evident that "control" is what Peiping is after. Whether Mao Tse-tung, Red Chinese leader, is personally ambitious or is being pushed into this expansive program by Moscow isn't clear, although he obviously has some sort of pact with Russia. In any event, whether he likes it or not, he has no choice. He sits right under Russia's big guns.

Admiral Commands Carlisle Barracks

Carlisle, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—Rear Admiral Thomas A. Binford took over today as head of the Armed Forces Information School at Carlisle Barracks.

It marked the first time a navy man was placed in charge of the school, which was established in 1946 as the Armed Forces' Public Relations Training Center for both officers and enlisted men.

Admiral Binford succeeded Brig. Gen. Edward J. McGraw as commandant at the school.

PENNSY CURBS SOME SERVICE

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad ordered sharp curtailments in its passenger service today in the face of a spreading strike of railroad yard workers.

A source close to the situation said freight was "piling up" in yards throughout the PRR system, particularly at Chicago and Washington. The source, who declined to be identified by name, said "something will have to be done" and indicated an embargo might be ordered this afternoon.

The PRR declined comment on whether or not it is considering a freight embargo.

The railroad announced that it was bypassing Washington completely in its east-west and north-south services.

Has Shuttle Service

All east-west passenger trains which are scheduled to originate or terminate at Washington are using Baltimore, 40 miles north, as the terminus point.

The railroad said it is operating a shuttle service between Baltimore and Washington.

North-south trains are being detoured around Washington via freight routes from Landover, Md., five miles north of Washington, to Alexandria, Va., just south of the nation's capital.

Passengers who want to board trains at Washington are being taken by bus to the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac station at Alexandria.

The spokesman said PRR New York-Chicago passenger trains are moving in and out of Chicago without the usual switching operations. Many of the trains are running late.

PENNSY TRAIN RAMS FREIGHT

Altoona, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad's Spirit of St. Louis rammed the rear of a derailed freight train today, knocking the diesel engine and two cars off the track. No one was injured.

Railroad officials said the wreck occurred at South Fork, 28 miles west of Altoona.

The Spirit of St. Louis was able to proceed on its trip eastward after a four-hour delay.

A railroad spokesman said a freight train was derailed first at the scene of the wreck. The Spirit of St. Louis then rammed into the rear of the derailed freight train.

Four cars of the freight train were derailed in the first mishap.

The two units of the passenger train's diesel locomotive were derailed as well as a mail storage car and one sleeping car. First reports said all the cars remained upright.

Railroad spokesmen said they did not know the speed of the passenger train but doubted if it was very great since there were no injuries.

The Spirit was enroute to New York from Pittsburgh.

JURORS URGE INDICTMENTS IN PITT PROBE

Pittsburgh, Dec. 14 (AP)—The special state's grand jury investigating free work charges and rackets in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county today recommended indictment of two city officials, several city employees and two Pittsburgh contractors.

Judge Sara M. Soffel of the Allegheny county, who is presiding over the jury's investigation, said the jury recommended the following indictments:

1. Council President Thomas E. Kilgallen, on charges of misdemeanor in office, cheating and defrauding the city of labor and materials, fraudulently converting city labor and materials to his own use, and bribery.

Others Are Named

2. Kilgallen, Howard Gross, dismissed head of the city's skilled laborers, and George Manko, fired city painter, on a charge of conspiring to defraud the city of labor and materials.

3. The Allegheny Asphalt and Paving company, its subsidiary, the Highway Products company, and co-owners Daniel and Michael Parish, on charges of bribery and corrupt solicitation.

4. William A. Weaver, Glassport, brother-in-law of Kilgallen, on a charge of perjury.

5. City Controller Edward Frey, on charges of cheating and defrauding the city of labor and fraudulently converting city labor to his own use.

SAYS CORONER SYSTEM POOR

Oil City, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—A county coroner calls the coroner system antiquated and inefficient and urges its abolishment in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Maurice Dinberg, Venango county coroner, told the Oil City Rotary club that Pennsylvania's coroner system should be scrapped in favor of the medical examiner plan used in New York city and New England.

The duties of coroners in Pennsylvania are not clear, he said, adding:

"As a result, investigation into sudden death is inept and inadequate due to faulty organization of official agencies and a lack of uniformity of statutes, or even lack of statutes."

Qualified Appointees

The medical examiner plan would divide the state into medico-legal districts served by qualified appointees. Two or more regional crime laboratories would be set up to serve the state.

Autopsies would be obligatory in all cases of violent or sudden death. All evidence in such cases would be turned over to the police and district attorney for possible investigation.

"In Pennsylvania," Dr. Dinberg declared, "no qualifications are necessary to become a coroner."

He said private citizens, morticians or others not especially trained should not be burdened with the coroner's responsibilities.

Catches Sailfish By Bill Barehanded

Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Larry Robinson will have a real fish story to tell his grandchildren. Lifeguards in a rowboat yesterday stalked a sailfish close to shore, but gave up when the fish out-manuevered them.

Then Robinson gave chase in his speedboat, and after several twists and turns reached out with his bare hands and grabbed the fish by its bill.

He hauled the seven-foot-two 55-pound fish into his boat while spectators ashore cheered.

Favors UMT For Men And Women

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—Dr. Horace Hildreth, president of Bucknell university, considers the United States in peril both from within and without.

Dr. Hildreth, former governor of Maine, told the Philadelphia Suburban Principals association yesterday that:

1—"The United States is endangered from within by 'large groups of people, some with malicious motives and some with sincerity, who wish to retreat from individual freedom, from responsibility and authority for each individual to the sheltering arms of an all-powerful state.'"

2—"From the outside the danger is 'the military power of Russia and its satellites.'"

He recommended the nation adopt universal military training for women as well as men.

PLAN NEW STEEL MILL

Hazleton, Pa., Dec. 14 (AP)—A steel mill with an estimated capacity of 120,000 tons a year will be built here by the Hazleton Steel and Tubing company. The company announced plans for the plant yesterday after the National Security Resources board approved a tax grant of $4,175,340. The firm is headed by Benjamin S. Dowd, former president of the Vulcan Iron Works of Wilkes-Barre.

COMBAT GLADIOLUS THRIPS NOW

It was formerly believed that the destructive gladiolus thrip lived over winter in plant refuse in the growing bed as well as in stored corms (bulbs). But investigations now indicate that this pest survives from one growing season to the next solely in the corms. Therefore, if these survivors are killed before another planting season arrives, complete control is possible.

Two measures are suggested for growers to gain this desirable end. First, fumigate stored corms in early December; next, induce all gladiolus-growing neighbors to do the same. By this simple and quite inexpensive expedient one of our most troublesome insect enemies can be routed from the community. Of course, there will likely be a few stray thrips brought in on purchased corms or by other means, but in general the thrip problem will be greatly modified by this late fall fumigation of stored corms.

It is advisable to inspect corms every week or two at this time of the year or later until planting time in order to detect broods of thrips. And whenever the pest is present, fumigation is necessary. In most cases a thorough "gassing" in early December will exterminate the insects.

Naphthalene flakes are recommended for this purpose. Place corms in small paper bag, such as are used in candy and grocery stores. Sprinkle the flakes over them at the rate of about one ounce to 100 corms. Reduced to volume measurements this calls for four and three-fourth (4 3/4) level tablespoonsful of flakes to 100 corms. Fold the bag top over several times. Return corms to their regular storage trays in 2 to 3 weeks.

December fumigation is employed to gain the timely benefits of catching the full brood of thrips exposed after most of the potential egg crop is hatched. However, some eggs may remain and escape destruction. This calls for frequent later inspections and re-fumigation to kill later thrips before planting time.

The chief note of warning is this: It is unsafe to fumigate gladiolus corms in metal cans, boxes or other heavy containers because germination may be impaired or destroyed. The paper-bag method avoids this danger and at the same time gains a full measure of thrip extermination.

In addition to this precautionary combat, corms should be disinfected just before planting for double insurance to kill any lingering thrips. Mercuric chloride (corrosive sublimate, is recommended. This is a deadly poison and should not be used carelessly or experimentally. It should be mixed in a wooden, glass or earthenware vessel, never in metal. Unused portions or the residue after disinfection should be buried at once. A 1:1000 strength is advised, made by dissolving 2 standard tablets in a little warm water and then diluting to 1 quart, or 1 ounce in some warm water and diluted to 7 gallons. Soak the corms in this solution from 3 to 17 hours and plant them while they are still moist from the immersion.

Readers with other gladiolus problems are advised to write the editor before planting time. Too, if more information is desired on corm fumigation or disinfection, as described above, growers or prospective growers are invited to write for all the additional advice they desire. Please enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for personal reply by return mail.

TIMELY TASKS FOR DECEMBER

There is a heartening note in the fact that as farmers and gardeners bring their affairs of the calendar year to a close with the end of December the sun is beginning its apparent march northward again toward another reign of resurrection and productive fruitfulness.

Mulch boxwood with strawy stable manure before the temperature drops to 20 degrees F. or lower.

Bring out a few pots of potted daffodil and hyacinth bulbs to force welcome blooms before Christmas.

If a mulch has not already been applied on the strawberry bed or field, apply at once. Wheat straw is recommended or swale hay may be used. Apply liberally over the row to protect the tender crown buds from which next spring's fruit will develop.

As soon as snow covers the ground, begin furnishing quails and pheasants daily feedings of grain in a sheltered nook where they may eat undisturbed. Beneath low-hanging evergreens is an excellent place to offer extra feed. Song birds appreciate small grains distributed on a feeding station platform or in other out-of-the-way shelters.

Four steps are stressed in buying, enjoying, and keeping a live Christmas tree: (1) Buy a suitable evergreen at a nursery and plant it in an adequately large bucket or tub and keep it in a sheltered place in the lawn or garden; (2) Prepare a hole where a permanent evergreen is needed and cover it with dry straw under an upturned barrel or box; (3) Move the live tree indoors for Christmas use, keeping it moist by an occasional mist spray of water; (4) After it serves for Santa Claus, plant it in the prepared spot. This is an economical way to have the best possible Christmas tree and gain another fine evergreen shrub for the home grounds.

Disinfect or fumigate stored gladiolus corms before the middle of December to kill over-wintering thrips. Readers who do not know how to apply naphthalene flakes for this purpose are invited to write the editor for directions.

Horses may be treated now for eradicating stomach bots. This is a community-wide task. If every horse owner engages a veterinarian at this time to administer the proper treatment, bots will be exterminated completely. It is a worth-while duty to improve horse health and save the patient animals from indescribable sufferings.

Young fruit trees can be protected from mouse ravages over winter by encasing the trunks with fine-mesh woven wire. The same protectors will prevent rabbits from gnawing the bark.

Poinsettia plants received in full bloom at Christmas time should be kept where the temperature remains uniformly lower than that at which living rooms are usually maintained. Dry air is the chief reason why this plant loses its leaves at higher levels.

Few indoor plants are immune to attacks by mealybugs—small sap-sucking pests upholstered with a white cottony coating for protection. Nicotine sulphate in soapy water or a fresh nicotine dust is recommended for control. A few of the pests may be removed by hand with a thin-bladed knife.

Write the editor to ask any and all questions left over from the year's activities and problems.

Battleship Recommissioned

Officers and crew salute during the hoisting of the colors at the ceremony recommissioning the USS New Jersey, 45,000-ton battleship, at the Naval Supply Depot, Bayonne, N. J. The vessel has been a mothballed member of the Atlantic Reserve Fleet since 1948. She was flagship of Admiral Halsey's Third Fleet in World War II. Capt. David M. Tyree, 46, of Washington, D. C., will be her commanding officer.

GOP CONCEDES MICHIGAN LOSS

Detroit, Dec. 14 (AP)—Michigan's former Gov. Harry F. Kelly, Republican, has conceded defeat in his attempted comeback.

Kelly gave up yesterday to Democratic incumbent G. Mennen Williams in the recount of nearly 1,900,000 votes of the November 7 gubernatorial election.

The tradition-shattering GOP defeat came after Kelly once had been declared the victor of Michigan's closest election.

Williams, 39-year-old soap fortune heir, thus will be inaugurated January 1 as Michigan's first re-elected Democratic governor in 36 years.

The GOP quit as Williams's recount margin reached 4,243 votes. About three-quarters of the original vote had been recounted.

For the official record, however, Williams's original canvass margin of 1,154 will stand to mark his closest gubernatorial fight in Michigan's 113-year history.

Significant Count
That vote: Williams (D) 935,152. Kelly (R) 933,988.

Correction of extensive tabulation errors had brought Williams out ahead after Kelly's apparent election by an approximate 5,000 majority. In view of the continuing illness of Michigan's Sen. Vandenberg the ballot battle was of added significance.

On the chance that the veteran Republican senator might not return to Washington the election winner would appoint a successor.

Vandenberg however, has said he wants and hopes to return. The senator, 66, is hospitalized at Grand Rapids for re-examination of a prior condition.

Merchant Fleet Of Italy Is Now Normal

Rome, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Italian merchant fleet reached a total of 2,722,822 tons with 1,175 ships by the end of September, it was officially disclosed.

The Italian merchant fleet was down to 400,000 tons at the war's end. Purchase of U. S. liberty ships and building of new craft under the E. R. P. program has steadily increased the tonnage of the Italian merchant marine, now almost at its pre-war peak.

ORCHARD PLAN DROPPED
Srinagar, Kashmir, Dec. 14 (AP)—The state government's plan for nationalizing orchards in Indian-held Kashmir have been postponed because of the financial drain involved in paying off the owners. The government is going ahead, however, with its program of breaking up large estates and distributing sections to the tillers.

Christian Science was founded by Mary Baker Eddy in 1879.

PA. DEMOCRATS TO ORGANIZE

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—Democratic lawmakers met today to reorganize their leadership for the 1951 legislature.

The 20-member democratic contingent in the Senate is expected to pick Sen. John H. Dent (Westmoreland) as minority leader once again in the upper chamber. Republicans hold 30 Senate seats.

Sen. Joseph M. Barr (Allegheny), minority whip in the 1949 legislature, is slated to succeed himself for the coming session.

In the House, Rep. H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria) was the pre-caucus choice for minority leader and Rep. John P. Stank (Northumberland) for minority whip. Democrats claim 87 seats in the lower chamber compared to 120 GOP members. There is one Democratic vacancy.

The caucus also will select Dent and Andrews as their choices, respectively, for Senate president pro tempore and speaker. The move will be purely perfunctory because of the GOP majorities in both chambers.

Sen. M. Harvey Taylor (R-Dauphin) has been picked by a GOP caucus as the Senate president pro tempore and Rep. Herbert Sorg (R-Elk) as speaker.

The officers will be formally elected at the Jan. 2 reorganization meeting of the general assembly.

U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers (D-Pa.) has been asked to speak at each the Senate and House Democratic caucuses as has Richardson Dilworth, Philadelphia city treasurer. Myers was defeated by Gov. James H. Duff for re-election and Dilworth by Governor-elect John S. Fine.

Professor Rejects Rockview Position

Pittsburgh, Dec. 14 (AP)—Dr. J. W. Claudy, warden of both the Western State penitentiary here and the Rockview branch near Bellefonte, said today that Walter A. Kearney, of the Pennsylvania State college, has declined appointment as superintendent at Rockview.

"We have no other candidates in mind," Dr. Claudy added. "We have had a rough time trying to fill this position but we are confident we will come out the right chute." Kearney, head of the Department of Teacher Placement at Pennsylvania State, told the penitentiary's board of trustees in a letter: "I wish to remain in the field of education. He had been the unanimous choice of the board for the position."

TRUMAN ASKS 200 DAUGHTERS FOR AUTOGRAPHS

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—President Truman, a famous father of a famous daughter, knows what he's getting into when he asks for the autographs of more than 200 daughters of members of the National Press club.

Mr. Truman asked for them himself.

He and Margaret were guests at the club's annual father-daughter dinner last night. All through the meal the girls kept up a steady parade to Mr. Truman's table, getting his autograph.

The traffic was so heavy that at one point the Press club president, Radford Mobley, asked would the kids stop coming, please, so that the President could eat?

At the end of the program, Mr. Truman got up and said:

"As usual, it's been a wonderful evening." He then ran through the entertainers, who included everyone from the comedian, Jimmy Savo, to a bunch of kids, "Juvenile Jury." He said he liked them all. "It was well worth the price of admission," he said, "and it didn't cost me anything."

Asks For Autographs

Then he had a special message for the youngsters:

"I want every one of you young ladies to send me a Christmas card, and I want you to write on it, 'I was at the Press Club Father-Daughter dinner—here's my autograph.'"

"It's been a wonderful evening," he said, "and I haven't had many here lately."

It was the first public appearance of the President and Margaret together since the publication of a letter he wrote to Paul Hume, music critic of the Washington Post. That's the letter in which Mr. T. said unkind things about Hume for the unkind things Hume had said about Margaret's singing.

No one referred to the incident. Maybe that's the reason Mr. Truman thought it was a wonderful evening.

There had been rumors Mr. Truman might play the piano while Margaret sang, but they didn't.

AID FOR TITO NOW ASSURED

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—A $38,000,000 drought relief program for Communist Yugoslavia—a "must" in President Truman's post-election legislative book—appeared headed for quick enactment today.

Battered but still substantially intact, it passed the House late yesterday, 225 to 142, after two days of stormy debate.

In the showdown, 182 Democrats were joined by 43 Republicans to put the measure across. Voting "no" were 100 Republicans, 41 Democrats and Rep. Marcantonio, American Labor party.

Before the bill goes to Mr. Truman for his signature, a compromise between conflicting Senate and House versions must be worked out. With no basic difficulties in prospect, this was expected to be done quickly.

Of the five major "must" items the President outlined for the "lame duck" session of the dying 81st Congress, this was the second to be passed by both branches.

Rent control extension already has gone to the White House. The Yugoslav aid bill was almost as good as passed. Two others probably will pass.

Only statehood for Hawaii and Alaska appeared doomed—talked to death in the Senate.

Report Progress In Health Program

Harrisburg, Dec. 14 (AP)—Pennsylvania's mental health program is showing improvement, but it still has a long way to go, a Citizens' report said today.

The Pennsylvania Citizens Association for Health and Welfare asserted that the "unmet needs" are still great.

The association made the statement in a review of Pennsylvania's mental health activities for the past four years.

"The administration in office during the past four years has considered progress in the state's mental health program one of its major achievements," the report said, adding:

"The still unsolved problems and the yet unmet needs are so great that it would be easy to underestimate what has been accomplished. Perhaps the fairest thing to say is that the gains have been tangible and substantial although they have fallen short of what they've sometimes been cracked up to be."

Martin Opposes Monopoly Bill

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Senator Edward Martin, Pennsylvania Republican, voted against the anti-monopoly bill barring a corporation from buying a rival's assets if that would materially lessen competition.

The Senate approved the measure 55 to 22 yesterday.

Senator Francis J. Myers, Pennsylvania Democrat, was not listed as voting.

Customers' Corner

Have you ever said "I'll just never go back there again!"

That's the way a lot of people react when something goes wrong in the store in which they shop.

They don't complain. They just make up their minds to shop somewhere else.

But we don't want that ever to happen at A&P.

If for any reason you should ever be dissatisfied with the food or service in your A&P, please do us and our employees the favor of letting us know. Please write:

Top Atomic Leaders Called To White House For Talks

By OLIVER W. DEWOLF

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP) — Top Atomic leaders were called to the White House today amid speculation that President Truman may order controls over the critical materials needed for the nation's rapidly expanding A-bomb program.

The speculation arose when it was learned that three atomic officials would attend the meeting arranged for Mr. Truman with—among others—the chairman and ranking minority members of the Senate and House Banking committees. These committees have jurisdiction over controls legislation.

Representing the Atomic program will be Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy commission; chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) of the Senate-House Atomic committee, and Rep. Elston (R-Ohio), a member of the committee.

Elston told a reporter he did not know what the meeting was about, but assumed it was another in the series of meetings the President is holding with congressional leaders on the present emergency.

McMahon told the Senate yesterday Congress should speedily approve as a matter of the "utmost urgency" the AEC's request for $1,050,000,000 to carry out the third phase of its expansion program.

The request is contained in a $17-850,000,000 supplemental defense money bill now under study by the appropriations committees of both Houses.

McMahon said the new program would (a) enable an increase in stocks of available uranium—the ore which provides the explosive material for the A-bomb; (b) add "huge new plants" for using products of the ore, and (c) produce new weapons production and storage facilities.

McMahon did not elaborate on any point. But there have been repeated unofficial congressional reports that the AEC is planning to build a new atomic plant in Kentucky, within the power distribution area of the Tennessee valley authority. Such a new plant would be in addition to one just started in South Carolina to produce materials for the projected hydrogen bomb.

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP) — A four-man Senate Republican Policy subcommittee decided to make a last-ditch effort today to agree on a foreign policy declaration for the Republicans.

The fourth meeting for the group, set up a week ago to draft a foreign policy statement for presentation to the Senate's 43 GOP lawmakers, appeared to have only a 50-50 chance of ending in any agreement. No hour was set for the session.

New York, Dec. 14 (AP) — Conflicting price trends persisted in the stock market today. Soft drink, copper, and textile issues improved while automobile, chemical and radio-television stocks backed down. The overall result was a thorough mixture of gains and losses, with most changes confined to less than $1 a share.

JEWELER NOW IS CERTIFIED "GEMOLOGIST"

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP) — Tall, blue-eyed Elaine Cooper entered her father's jewelry business 14 years ago as a shy 19-year-old entrusted with such simple tasks as wrapping packages and running errands.

Today Miss Cooper is not only head of the business, but also a certified gemologist—a title held by less than 10 other women in the world.

To attain her certification from the American Gem Society of the United States and Canada, Miss Cooper spent six years in the study of precious gems and metals and the related subjects of mineralogy, geology, physics, optics and chemistry.

The society was founded in 1934 by a group of leaders in the jewelry profession whose goal was to establish a protective code of ethics and a system of examining and classifying precious stones.

It is a non-profit organization, numbering some 1,400 jewelers, scholars and scientists.

Miss Cooper's studies consisted of correspondence courses at night after business hours and finally classes in New York where hundreds of gems were examined and identified.

Every stone, Miss Cooper said, has its own individuality of color, brilliance and durability, while the three cardinal virtues of a gem stone are beauty, durability and rarity.

Miss Cooper and her brother Theodore are grandchildren of F. R. Cooper, goldsmith, who opened a shop in 1883 in Colchester, England.

Miss Cooper, proud of her certification as a gemologist, still has an unfulfilled ambition. She wants to pass the British examinations to obtain a fellowship in the British Gemologist Society.

Sarawak Prospers On Rubber Prices

Kuching, Sarawak, Dec. 14 (AP) — This British crown colony is prospering. It expects to end the 1950 financial year with a big surplus. Governor Anthony Abell told the Council Negri in Kuching recently that Sarawak's revenues had been much greater than what was expected a year ago.

The governor said the increase was to a large extent due to the rise in the price of rubber. He added this year's revenue, therefore, could not be regarded as a normal one.

The New York municipal transit system included subways, elevated trains, buses and trolleys, covers 819 route miles.

COUNTY YOUTH ELIGIBLE FOR ESSAY CONTEST

Adams county young people who voted for "peace and good will" during the 1950 campaign for funds for the Japan International Christian University Foundation Inc., are eligible to enter the Youth essay contest being conducted by the foundation. The local campaign was sponsored by the Adams County Christian Youth Council and raised $148.

Three nationally known leaders in the fields of government, education and Christian service will act as judges in the essay contest conducted by the foundation. Announcement of the acceptance as judges by former ambassador to Japan, Joseph C. Grew; Mrs. Mildred McAfee Horton, former president of Wellesley college; and Dr. E. Fay Campbell, secretary of the division of higher education, Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A., has been made.

The ICU Youth essay contest which is open to all young people who have voted for "peace and good will" during the 1950 campaign for funds for the university and signed the youth roster will close at midnight on December 31. Winners of the contest will be the young man and young woman, aged 18 to 24, who write the best speeches of presentation of the scroll of these voters to the people of Japan, and the boy and girl, aged 13 to 17, who submit the best essays on the subject, "Why I Contributed to the ICU Campaign and Signed the Roster." The two writers of the best speeches will be given an all-expense round trip to Japan; the writers of the two best essays will receive $500 government savings bonds.

The trip to and from Japan will be made on the American President

Lines. In Japan the two spokesmen will formally present to the Japanese people the scroll containing the signatures of all the young people who have voted and contributed.

The government savings bond prizes have been made possible through the generosity of Dr. E. Stanley Jones, internationally known missionary and evangelist who resigned as a bishop of the Methodist church in 1928 to devote his life to world evangelism. Because of his strong conviction that there is an urgent need for the kind of training that ICU is to furnish, Dr. Jones has given these prizes to stimulate interest and activity on the part of youth in this university project.

More than 50,000 young people in all parts of the United States and its possessions contributed at least $50,000 toward the ICU fund during 1950, according to Miss Ruth Miller, national youth director of the foundation.

Swarms Of Locusts Threatening Iran

Tehran, Iran, Dec. 14 (AP) — Huge swarms of crop-destroying desert locusts are invading Southern Iran from Baluchistan, Pakistan and the Arabian peninsula. Flying in groups so thick that they sometimes blot out the sun for hours, the locusts are part of the great winter migration that is threatening many middle eastern countries.

The Iranian ministry of agriculture has dispatched experts to the infested areas in the south to lead the fight against the insect onslaught. Little can be done to combat the locusts while they are migrating. So far little damage has been done to crops because most of the grain has been harvested.

Iranian officials say most of the damage will come next spring when the red and yellow locust hatch from millions of eggs and attack young, budding crops. In some years damage has been so great that local famines have developed.

Move Families To Escape Communists

Kuala Lumpur, Malay States, Dec. 14 (AP) — Federal government authorities are pushing a big resettlement program in Selangor state to take families out of the zones where Communist terrorists are operating. One thousand families now scattered over the Ampang district are being moved. Their resettlement in effect will set up a new township.

The new area has been fenced in by barbed wire and special constables are on guard.

Has Been In Three Branches Of Service

Parris Island, S. C., Dec. 14 (AP) — Marine Private Lillian Benson, 31, going through "boot camp" here, has now seen service in the Army, Navy and Marines. With the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps in World War II, Pvt. Benson was one of the first 200 women to volunteer for overseas duty in 1942. She landed in North Africa only seven days after the initial invasion. From there she went to the European Theater of Operations with General Dwight Eisenhower's command. Malaria forced her to return to the states. She was discharged soon afterwards.

In 1946, she enlisted as a hospital aid in the Waves and served for six months.

"I felt it my duty to enlist when the Korean War broke out," she said, adding that this time her mother advised her to join the United States Marines.

Portuguese India Stirs Propaganda

Bombay, Dec. 14 (AP) — A propaganda war is being waged along the west coast in India over the future of three small colonies making up Portuguese India.

India has made it clear it wants Portugal to give up the colonies of Goa, Damaun and Diu. Portugal intends to hold on. And while the issue remains deadlocked, the propaganda war grows increasingly bitter. Bombay, home of tens of thousands of Hindus and Catholics of Goan origin, is a center for nationalist, anti-Portuguese agitation.

EDUCATORS IN DISAGREEMENT ON DEFERMENTS

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Whether or not war comes soon, it seems certain this country will have to have a fairly large armed force for some years to come. Plans are being made now for larger forces.

The backbone of these forces, of course, will be young men. But the question, upon which educators themselves disagree, is this: what young men shall be forced to serve? All young men?

Or should the brainiest youths be allowed to defer compulsory military service and go to college so that the country will be assured of a flow of educated men for the future?

Only last week in Look magazine James B. Conant, president of Harvard university, stated his views on this. He suggested that every youth in America—without exception—be called into military service for two years.

And by every youth, he meant just that, with the physically able compelled to serve in the armed forces, and the physically unfit to serve in other jobs for the government at the pay the armed forces get.

Service For All
What about college students? Should they be exempted? Conant says no. What about college education for those who want it? Conant says they can get to college after serving in the army, navy or air force.

Conant suggests that every youth, upon reaching 18 or upon graduation from high school, be enrolled in military service. But what of deferring military service for a youth who wants to go to, or finish college?

Conant says: "To defer military service until a young man's education is complete may mean deferring it four to eight years." Opposing that, he thinks they'd be better off, and so would the country, if they put in their military service first and then went to college.

Shortly after President Conant's views appeared, the Association of American Universities adopted a resolution saying more or less what Conant had said.

This association of educators is made up of 37 major colleges and universities out of the 1,800 in this country. Briefly, the AAU plan goes like this:

For Few Deferments
Military service of 27 months for all males, starting at 18, not later than 19. Seventeen-year olds could volunteer. There'd be no deferments except for extreme physical, mental or moral disability.

The physically fit would have to serve in the armed forces. Those not physically fit, but still not extremely disabled, would have to work where the defense department told them.

But still another group of educators have other ideas. These were scholars, scientists and schoolmen who were asked for help in 1948 by Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service.

Hershey was faced with this problem: Since the country needs draftees but at the same time will need a continuous flow of college-trained men, should college men be deferred, or what, and how?

Hershey asked six committees of scholars, scientists and educators for recommendations. They've been studying the problem since 1948. They have recommended:

Premium On Brains
That the brainiest youths, with their intelligence determined by tests, should be deferred from military service so long as they went to college and achieved a certain amount of prescribed scholastic standing.

These recommendations of the Hershey committees have not been completed but are expected to be very soon and they are not expected to differ much from their preliminary recommendations already explained above.

But the American council on education, while following pretty much the recommendations of the Hershey committees, would lower a bit the standards of the intelligence tests that picked these brainiest youths.

According to the council's view, these deferred college men would have to serve in the armed forces after finishing school, unless the President himself picked out individuals for other kind of work or service.

The railroad platform at Sonapur, India, extends 2,415 feet and is believed to be the world's longest.

Both Sides Poor Shots In Malaya

Kuala Lumpur, Dec. 14 (AP)—There's a lot of shooting going on in Malaya but many times nobody gets hurt. In the various states of the Federation of Malaya, there are gun fights daily between British Army units and security forces with bands of Communist terrorists. But days on end, one reads of firing that goes on for half an hour or more, without a single casualty.

Some foreigners have suggested that the British campaign against terrorists would progress much more rapidly if there was an improvement in their marksmanship. On the other hand, the terrorists don't seem to be crack shots, either.

WANT LESS FANCY CHINA
Berlin, Dec. 14 (AP)—Saxony's famed Meissen china is too fancy for the common people so the style will have to be changed. East Germany's Communist regime has ruled. The state-owned plant has been ordered to develop Meissen in forms that are "healthy, lively and close to the people" and to discard the old "grotesque" style.

Television Crews Must Wear Formals

Baltimore, Dec. 14 (AP)—One television program here is strictly formal—white ties and tails in front of the camera and behind it.

When WMAR, Sunpapers station, began televising its program, "Dinner at the Sheraton Belvedere," its cameraman looked strangely out of place in the ritzy surroundings. Service jackets and sport shirts didn't blend too well with the formality.

To keep the correct mood the

Says Sparrows Make Lengthy Migrations

Santa Barbara, Calif., Dec. 14 (AP)—Dr. Barbara Blanchard Oakeson of the University of California has spent a lot of time following Gambel white-crowned sparrows around. She has traced them through all the western states. Last summer she went to a little village near the mouth of the Yukon river to check their migrations.

Her studies in the United States showed how they put on fat and how the gonad volume in the males increased 130 times in preparation for migration. In Alaska she found how they arrived just as the last snows were melting. Then they had

TUNE BY PHONE

Vienna, Dec. 14 (AP)—Your violin off key? Your oboe flat? If you were in Vienna, you could discard the old tuning fork and call the telephone company.

Since Vienna is the traditional capital of the music world, the state telephone system has arranged so you can dial A-69 and get by phone a standard A-pitch of 440 vibrations of a tuning fork per second.

DESERT WELL MAY SOON AID CRIPPLED KIDS

Desert Hot Springs, Calif., Dec. 14 (AP) — A hot water well so hot it will poach eggs may soon be put to use to loosen the muscles of crippled children.

Bill Tarbuton, who has been drilling for hot water since 1934, says that the well in the desert crest area near Indio registers a temperature of 200 degrees, which would make it the hottest well ever drilled in California. (The U. S. Bureau of Mines reports a few wells that hot in Oregon.)

Tarbuton named the well the "Sue C." after his granddaughter, Sue Cannon, who was cured of a rheumatic ailment by hot desert baths—and he has offered to give five acres of land next to the well for a children's hospital which will use the therapeutic waters.

Drinkable Stuff
The water—unlike most desert wells—is not vile-smelling or sulphurous, says Tarbuton. It is good drinkable stuff, suitable for making coffee or tea right on the spot as it comes from the ground.

The well is 331 feet deep and stands at about the 75-foot level. It pumps about 2,500 gallons an hour. The water comes bursting forth with a roar of steam and you have to step lively when the wind starts blowing.

Tarbuton's gusher is the hottest in a region that abounds in underground hot water, presumably running along the famed San Andreas fault, "mother of earthquakes" in southern California. The driller previously had brought in 22 wells exceeding 100 degrees. Others in the area run a temperature of only 75.

HAZING BEING RAISED TO NEW HIGHER LEVEL

Springfield, Ohio, Dec. 14 (AP) — Wittenberg college's Inter-Fraternity Council (IFC) has decreed that old time Greek letter society hazing is out.

Instead of the lowly pledge standing on street corners in woolen underwear and derby hats reciting nursery rhymes; capturing greased pigs; or conveying ducks on a leash along a downtown thoroughfare, the IFC has inaugurated a pledge-training program in which all the fraternities delegate half of their 28 pledges to social and welfare work in Springfield's underprivileged areas at least one day a week.

Under this plan the first task is to help clean up the community's "bottoms" district.

Starting with the Inner Mission Society, the pledges are constructing a playground, redecorating play rooms, painting and doing other clean-up projects at a settlement house and a recreation center. Other innovations in the pledge training adopted by the various fraternities include a newspaper reading course, direction of pledges to a more active part in chapter administration, study of methods for choosing the correct college curriculum, and a study of etiquette.

London, Dec. 14 (AP) — Atlantic Pact experts laid down final political and military plans Wednesday for sending German troops in defense of eastern Europe.

A communique said a joint meeting of the pact council's deputy foreign ministers and its military chiefs "reached complete agreement on political and military recommendations for German participation" in western defenses.

WOMAN, 60, IS HEADING EAST LIKE PIONEER

Jameson, N. D., Dec. 14 (AP) — A weather-beaten, 60-year-old woman with the stamina of a pioneer and scorn for modern transportation is on her way from Montana to Minnesota in a covered wagon.

Jesse Anna Lacinah sold her ranch, cattle and most of her belongings several weeks ago and started her trek from Big Sandy, Mont.

Her plodding trip of more than 1,000 miles was interrupted when her horses, "Pick and Nally O'Mally," bolted and the covered wagon and a truck collided. Jesse Anna was hospitalized here for a rest.

She has the same wagon and horse harness used when she went west in 1914. Her destination now is Lakefield, Minn., where a sister, Mary Ohlario, lives.

400 Miles To Go
Jesse Anna eats and sleeps in her covered wagon. A bed spring is fastened to the fore part of the wagon and extends to about the midsection. The back half of the wagon is loaded with corn stalks for the horses.

To add to Jesse Anna's misfortune, her goat, "My Pal, Eliza," died. Eliza used to bring up the rear in a two-wheeled cart and for her passage provided milk.

When Jesse Anna passed through Bismark, she had a passerby call a department store clerk for her. She ordered a pair of overalls, some safety pins and a few yards of white cloth.

She has roughly 400 miles left of her trip "back east."

Fighter Dog Now Red Cross Worker

San Pedro, Calif., Dec. 14 — From trained man-killer to messenger of mercy, that's the story of Pvt. Alf. A handsome, jet-black German shepherd, Pvt. MacArthur here. His harness bears a red cross, and his pack is a medical kit.

When the 409th Engineer Special Brigade was called from reserve status to active duty recently, Pvt. Alf answered the call to colors along with his master, Cpl. Joseph G. Certain. The two met in Berlin in 1943. Certain bought the dog from a former Luftwaffe officer for a few cartons of cigarettes.

LAST HOPE MOVE FOR CEASE FIRE EXPECTED TODAY

By A. I. GOLDBERG

New York, Dec. 14 (AP) — A last hope move to get Red China to agree to a cease-fire truce in Korea was promised overwhelming U. N. assembly approval late today, Russian opposition made the plan's chances of success doubtful.

The 60-nation U. N. political committee adopted the measure yesterday 51 to 5, after a flood of gloomy predictions that World War III threatens unless the Chinese Communists heed the world organization.

Russia's Jacob A. Malik fought desperately to defeat the measure, sponsored by India and 12 other Asian and Middle East countries.

Delay Is Expected

He even half-promised that Chinese troops would quit Korea if all foreign troops—the United Nations forces—pulled out in accord with a Soviet proposal still awaiting committee action.

More Russian and Soviet bloc arguments were expected to delay final assembly vote until late today.

The cease fire resolution would empower Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam and two others he names to find out what can be done to get Red China to agree to stop fighting.

Delegates hoped that the three-man commission would be able to determine quickly what should be done and lay it before the assembly for approval.

But a number of questions remained unanswered as the delegates went into an historic session to lay the groundwork for a U. N. truce request addressed to a nation fighting, and beating, the first U. N. force in history.

These included:
How will the Chinese Communists answer, if they answer at all? Is the Soviet attitude a sure indication of the Chinese Communist line? Will this prove that Moscow and Peking have an unbreakable bond or that the Chinese Communists have swerved from Kremlin master-ship?
The Indian delegation has never received an answer, either from Peking or from its representative Wu Hsiu-Chuan in New York, on the Asia-Arab plea for Communist forces to stop at the 38th parallel.

Wu has remained silent here ever since the cease-fire proposal came up.

Delegates Are Wary

Delegates also tried to figure out how sincere Malik was when, for the first time, the Soviet delegate indicated that Chinese forces would withdraw if U. N. forces did. Withdrawal of foreign troops, he told the committee, "would also dispose of the question of volunteers (the Communist-line designation of Chinese troops in Korea), whose presence in Korea was caused by the fact of overt foreign armed aggression."

After the meeting Malik told a reporter he meant that if U. N. forces left Korea, there would be no reason for Chinese "volunteers" to remain, and Communist China would call them back.

But most delegates were wary of his words.

The 13 original states of the U. S., constituted in 1790, had an area of 892,135 square miles.

Service For Home Planning Offered

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects has established a Small House Consulting Service to enable more prospective home owners to have architectural advice in the planning and construction of new houses.

A panel of 28 registered architects has been set up with each member available on appointment for discussion of individual problems at fees of $10 per hour. The chapter holds that full architectural service in the planning of a house is worth 12 per cent of the cost of the house.

John Callender, chairman of the consulting panel, says "the person who cannot afford the complete services of an architect can now obtain professional advice on a part time basis. The profession feels certain it can save the public many dollars and troubles."

WAR HURTS SHAWL INDUSTRY
Srinagar, Kashmir, Dec. 14 (AP)—Turmoil in central Asia is playing havoc with Kashmir's famed shawl industry. The fine, soft underwool of Tibetan goats which goes into the manufacture of shawls comes only from Sinkiang province of China, western Tibet, and Ladakh province of Kashmir. The mountain route linking Sinkiang with Kashmir has been closed since the Chinese Communists took control in the north and Tibetan supplies have been scarce since the Chinese invasion began. Shawl-makers must depend on small supplies from Ladakh.

Marine Flier Nabs Korean Guerrillas

With the First Marine Air Wing in Korea, Dec. 14 (AP)—Marine Captain David G. Swinford of Santa Ana, Calif., is thought to be the first Marine flier to be instrumental in capturing a band of North Korean guerrillas. He dived upon a house and loosed a burst of 20 mm. cannon fire.

Fifty North Koreans, a few in uniform and the others in the civilian garb affected by the guerrillas in the area, came tumbling from the doors and windows. Waving white clothes and bowing, they started down the road in the direction of the Marine lines. Swinford made several passes over them, flying at low altitude, "just to keep them in line."

As they neared the lines of the ground Marines, Swinford radioed to tell of the surrendering North Koreans. The ground units sent out a patrol to meet them.

FREAK BLOOM

Stafford, England, Dec. 14 (AP)—George Astles, a gardener here, produced a freak chrysanthemum. The bloom is divided down the center, one side white and the other red.

Weight of paper used in the production of U. S. currency during 1949 totaled 1,792 tons. Ind used weighed 1,388 tons.

Santa and the COWBOY

AP Newsfeatures

By LUCRECE HUDGINS

Santa took Bucky by the hand and pointed over the horizon—great shafts of red and yellow lights almost encircled Santa Land.

Chapter Nine

THE GREAT CHERRY STICK

Bucky tried not to show his disappointment at the horse Santa had made him. It was a finely carved stick, strong yet slender, with the end curved forward like a head and a narrow strip of leather looped through the notched mouth.

"It's great," said Bucky politely. "It's a very special horse," said Santa. "For the right cowboy it might do anything—even win a race through the Northern Lights."

"Santa," said Bucky. "I will do my best but I do not even know what the Northern Lights are."

Santa took Bucky by the hand and led him outdoors. The night was sharp and clear. Santa pointed over the horizon and Bucky saw what he'd been far too excited to notice before.

Great shafts of red and yellow lights almost encircled Santa Land. Whether they streamed from the heavens or from the earth, Bucky could not tell. They moved, some in arches like rainbows, some straight like big colored poles.

"It's the Aurora Borealis—the great Northern Lights," said Santa. "No one has ever ridden through them or even been close enough to touch them. In the race you must ride in one end and out the other and then back to Santa Land."

Bucky's fingers tightened on Santa's hand. He was afraid. Santa understood. "If you do not want to try it," he said, "you need not."

"What will happen if I do not win?" whispered Bucky.

"I dare not think about it," said Santa. "The Jindians have Dasher—my best reindeer. They say they will burn the shops. The Jindians love no one and would not care at all if Christmas never came to the world again."

"Don't worry," said Bucky soberly. "I'm sure I can win. A cowboy always wins."

He was not nearly so sure as he sounded. Still when Mrs. Claus finally put him to bed for a few hours rest he dropped off to sleep at once for he knew that worry never did anybody any good and that tomorrow would take care of itself.

The next morning in the half light of the Northern day Chief Hurricane and all his tribe rode into Santa Land. From their midst rode Lonesome Boy. Bucky's hopes fell when he saw the strong black horse the Jindian had. Straight to Bucky came Lonesome Boy.

"Where your horse?" he asked in a low voice.

Bucky held the cherry stick. "This is my horse," he said in a loud voice, loud because he was afraid and because he didn't want anyone to think he was ashamed of the stick.

Lonesome Boy shook his head. "No good," he said. "Not fast. Northern lights have evil spirit. You never get through."

"I'll get through," retorted Bucky. "You just better look out for yourself on that old black nag." He hugged his stick horse loyally.

Lonesome Boy and Bucky lined up side by side. The Jindian looked straight ahead. Bucky looked over at Santa. He smiled to cheer the fairy folk.

Chief Hurricane threw up his hands. "Go!" he shrieked.

Like an arrow from his father's bow Lonesome Boy hurtled across the plain. In an instant he was lost to sight in the half-day, half-night. Bucky was left far behind, galloping along on his stick.

"I don't care," thought Bucky angrily. "It's a good horse all the same. Anything Santa makes is bound to be better than what that old Jindian has!"

So he ran till his breath was hard to get and his legs were stiff and sore and ready to crumple. The cold wind made tears run from his eyes. A pain in his chest grew sharper every second.

The Jindians hooted. The fairy folk moaned. Mrs. Claus chewed the end of her apron worriedly. Santa

The horse shied from right to left, reared on his hind legs, whinnied shrilly in fear and astonishment.

"On, Fellow!" shouted Bucky, snapping the reins. "Keep on!" And the house tore on through the forest of lights. It was like being on a merry go round in a scary house during a thunder storm. Curtains of bluish-green pink and yellow lights fluttered everywhere. Spurts of light rose like whiffs of smoke.

Bucky thought only of urging Fellow on faster. But suddenly a giant of many colors stood in his path. "Who goes there?" roared the giant. Bucky's blood ran cold to see the awful creature with purple face, green ears and orange hair. In his hands the giant held one hundred strands of color that sized and crackled and coiled across the sky.

"Please, sir," said Bucky in his most polite voice. "I am running a race to save Santa Land from the Jindians."

"Oh," cried the giant. "I have already met the boy you race. He could not cross my walls of fire and I have imprisoned him forever. If you can cross the walls you will win your race. But if you do not cross them you, too, shall be my prisoner."

"Show me the walls!" cried Bucky eagerly.

The giant pointed behind him. There stood three walls, one beyond the other, each one higher than the one before. The first wall was a flaming blue, the second a jagged edged yellow, and the third was a scorching red with tongues of flame licking at the sky.

Without a word Bucky charged at the wall of blue. Up and over went Fellow in a jump that carried them over the wall.

But the second wall was higher. Over the top went Fellow, but the heat of the flaming color burned Bucky's cheeks and the jump was made with no room to spare.

The came to the third wall. Up, up rose Fellow while Bucky clung to his back and made a mighty prayer. The horse leaped clear, though his skin was seared and his mane singed from his neck.

Still they had leaped the three walls and were safe. Bucky shouted happily and galloped on his way. But suddenly he wheeled in Fellow and came to a halt.

There beside him lay Lonesome Boy and his horse. The giant had tied them up with ropes of colored light and left them there to die.

"I have as good as won the race!" thought Bucky. "And Santa Land is saved!"

He started to ride away. But there was no joy in his heart. "It's no kind of a race like this," he told himself. So he leaped from his horse and ran back to Lonesome Boy.

"I'll untie you," he said. "And we'll finish the race fair and square."

(Next: End of the Race)

FSA Announces Research Grants

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Eight Pennsylvanians have been granted $56,350 for various types of research.

The Federal Security agency announced the following grants yesterday: James M. Sprague, University of Pennsylvania, $7,177; Dr. Esther L. McCandless, Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania, $8,600; Dr. David R. Meranze, Mount Sinai hospital, Philadelphia, $7,776; Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia—Bernard Schepartz, $3,240; Dr. Irving H. Wagman, $9,817; Dr. William H. ## Communists Want No Western Praise

Berlin, Dec. 14 (AP)—A theatre critic in the Soviet sector of Berlin was sharply reprimanded for being objective about the West Berlin press. Fritz Erpenbeck in some of his reviews quoted the reaction of West Berlin newspapers and illustrated magazines. The party press bureau objected hotly to his reprinting of West Berlin compliments for a Russian play. The statement made it clear the west press is "the warmongering press" and not even its compliments are to be accepted. "A crass form of objectivity, in practical application, is unthinkable," the statement said.

NORTHERN WHALE HARVEST
St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 14 (AP)—A harvest of 485 whales was reaped in the waters off Newfoundland and Labrador this season. Two whaling companies here report. Last year the total catch was 544.

Rodents Can Starve Quickly In Cold

Davis, Calif., Dec. 14. (AP)—Small rodents, such as mice, can starve to death quickly in cold weather, says Walter E. Howard of the University of California. When it is cold the little animals must eat several times as much food as when it is warm. They do not seem to be able to break down stored fat in their bodies fast enough to prevent starvation when it is cold. However, through use of warm nests and huddling they can keep warm enough to prevent the quick starvation, Howard says.

MANY LAWS CAN BE USED ONLY IN EMERGENCY

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—This country has been in a continuous state of national emergency since 1939. But this week President Truman is expected to declare a state of national emergency.

This may sound confusing but isn't. The declaration won't affect the general public in such a wide sense as price and wage controls and rationing.

Under a law passed by Congress this fall the President can order price and wage controls and rationing any time he thinks they're necessary. He doesn't have to declare an emergency to use them. Why then declare a national emergency at all since we're already living under an emergency declaration and have been since 1939? It may, of course, sharpen the public's realization of national danger.

But it is only by declaring an emergency that the President can put into motion certain laws which he may think are necessary for this country's arms preparations but can't be used without the formal declaration of emergency.

Three Kinds Of Laws
Generally—for the purposes of this story—it can be said Congress passes three kinds of laws:

1. Permanent laws. They're in effect in peace and war. They stay unchanged unless Congress itself changes them. Example: The Taft-Hartley Labor Law.
2. Emergency laws. They may have been passed years ago but Congress, because it thinks they'd give the government too much power in ordinary times, has written into them a warning that they can't be used unless the President says there's a national emergency. Example: During an emergency the President can restrict the manufacture and distribution of explosives.

War-time Legislation
3. Temporary, war-time laws. Congress passes them in wartime to fill some special needs. When the war is over, or Congress thinks they're no longer necessary, Congress repeals them.

Example: The training course for army officers at West Point ordinarily is four years. During World War II Congress made this three years. Later it made the course four years again.

Back in 1939, when Hitler was rampaging, President Roosevelt declared a limited national emergency. (He later called it an unlimited emergency.) This permitted him to bring into action laws which already were on the books but couldn't be used except in emergency.

So this country still remains in a condition of unlimited national emergency because neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Truman has ever ended it. And we're still technically at war, too, since the war has never formally been ended.

Many Were Repealed
But in 1947, two years after the shooting stopped, Congress decided that:

1. Many of the temporary, war-time laws it passed after Pearl Harbor were no longer necessary. So it repealed a number of them although the war itself was not declared over.

2. Many of the emergency laws were no longer needed. So Congress declared the emergency was over—insofar as it applied to use of some of the emergency laws—while letting the emergency continue insofar as it applied to some other emergency laws.

This meant that the President no longer could use those emergency laws—for which Congress said the emergency was over—unless he again declared a national emergency.

So if he declares a national emergency this week, the President will be doing what he thinks is necessary in order to use some laws which would have to lie dormant on the books without such a declaration.

There's the question in the minds of some Congress members—because the emergency declaration would give the government much wider powers than it has now—whether the emergency declaration is necessary at this time.

Youths Of 16 Are Permitted To Smoke
Bonn, Germany, Dec. 14 (AP)—At what age should youngsters be allowed to smoke? Grown-ups in this country are just as widely split on the issue as anywhere else.

Now the law-makers of this young republic have made an energetic dash at it. What the law-makers wanted to decide was this: at what age may youngsters be allowed to smoke "in public?" After ten months of deliberation they emerged with a draft of a new "youth protection law" to reduce age limit from 18 to 16 years.

The coach, a four wheeled carriage with springs and a roof, derives its name from Kocs, a town in Hungary where the first coach was built.

India, Pakistan Have Women Trouble
Karachi, Dec. 14 (AP)—Some 30,000 Muslim women abducted during the communal riots of 1947 have not yet been recovered from different parts of India, refugee minister I. H. Qureshi said. Pakistan had recovered 47.7 per cent of 7,000 Hindu and Sikh women abducted while India had recovered only 31 per cent of abducted Muslim women.

Officials in New Delhi said between 3,000 and 4,000 abducted women had been returned by Pakistan while India had recovered and returned about 8,000. They said thousands remained to be recovered in Pakistan. India's rate of recovery, the officials asserted, was much faster than that of Pakistan.

US Elections Are Explained By Reds

Vienna, Dec. 14 (AP)—Know why the U. S. elections were so close recently? Wall Street wanted the two major parties to have almost equal forces so they could be easily handled. That's the story being told behind the Iron Curtain.

Communist newspapers in Hungary and Romania are explaining to their readers that the election results don't really "matter" anyway, since "it is well known that there are no essential differences between the two parties, both being at the service of Wall Street's war interest."

Brightest Lighting Marking Holiday

Bloomfield, N. J., Dec. 14 (AP)—This yuletide will be marked by the brightest holiday lighting ever, the Westinghouse Electric corporation's lamp division said today.

In 1949, American lamp manufacturers produced a total of 435 million Christmas tree bulbs. Demand has been so heavy this year that Westinghouse said it has doubled its output facilities over last year. It produces the bulbs in plants here and in Richmond, Ky.

H. J. Hanbury, manager of Westinghouse Christmas tree bulb sales, attributed the demand largely to a tendency toward more lights on each indoor tree, and to the increased popularity of outdoor lighting.

NEW VENTURE FOR BOB

William, Del., Dec. 14 (AP)—The movies have become Bob Carpenter's newest business venture. The president of the national champion Philadelphia Phillies is the boss man of a new $100,000 drive-in theater being built here.
